Glimpses of our students achievements

Gratitude Is The Heart's Memory

Everyone goes through a wide range of experiences in their life. Some turn out to be very good but a few others prove to be bad. However, it is the way we perceive them that makes all the difference. Just like all dark clouds having a silver lining, there is always room for positivity around us.

My mother is an avid movie lover. Her passion for cinema transcended into my soul too. Due to the sheer admiration she had for movies, I was also fascinated by the cinema from a very young age. Over the years, numerous movies have inspired me.

In the year 2001, I walked in to a theatre to watch one such movie. At that time, I could not have imagined the impact this movie would have in shaping my outlook towards life. When the movie ended, I could not take the film off my mind. I watched it over and over again continuously for seven times in the theatre. It left such a lasting impression on me.

Aamir Khan 's Lagaan changed the way I looked at life. In the movie, the hero does not know cricket but still puts together a team. He makes them understand that in order to break the barriers the Britishers have forced upon them, they need to win the game. The attitude of never giving up, the will to fight back and the unity amongst them are few of the many things Lagaan has taught me. I will forever be indebted to the makers of this film.

Decades ago, when I set out to educate just one girl, I harboured the same doubt that Aamir had in Lagaan: Would I succeed and win or not. However, just like in the movie, it was the unity and strength of every single student, sponsor and supporter that proved 'Gratitude is life'. Presently, in 2019, there are 421 students who are receiving higher education through Mugavari Foundation.

Just like a case of art imitating life, similar to the film Ramana, the students of Mugavari occupy a spectrum of prominent positions across the globe, thus, changing their lives and the society for the better. At this juncture, I thank my dearest AR Murugadoss Anna (Film Director) who planted the seeds for Mugavari Foundation. Furthermore, I also thank Saidai Duraisamy Sir (Ex-Mayor of Greater Chennai Corporation) for watering the seed which had grown to become a beautiful plant filled with beautiful and adorable flowers and fruits.

Pages and words will not be sufficient to convey my gratitude to the umpteen number of generous souls who stood by Mugavari Foundation through thick and thin all these years.

This booklet is comprised of glances into what Mugavari students are doing now. What you are holding right now is the life, soul and hope of the upcoming generation. It is what Mugavari Foundation has achieved so far and will continue to do, with your help and support. I hope whoever is holding this, will play an impactful role in educating and nurturing many more young bright minds of the future generations or pass it on to others who can aid Mugavari Foundation in bringing light to the lives of many deserving students.

With Hope...

Mugavari Foundation was established in 2002 in an attempt to support and educate one student. What started out then as a small effort gradually progressed to support 421 deserving students for their higher education with the help of 313 sponsors. The only thing we wish to witness is a community where finance is not a barrier to one's dreams.

Of the 421 students, 106 are in Medical field, 77 are working in top Corporate companies, 52 are from Anna University, 43 are in Government services. Many others occupy top positions across the nation, and the world.

Students who are currently employed after completing their education with the aid of Mugavari Foundation have started an initiative called Vanavil through which they contribute 7 percent of their monthly income to support our dream of building a world class school to provide excellent education for the future upcoming generation.
